Fads and Fancies

Young moderns are all enthusiastic over fringed play shoes that take their cue from Western cowboy fashions.

The inverted pompadour is a "last word" hair-do that is exciting much interest. The hair is brought down over the forehead, the ends turned under, which, when deftly done, gives every appearance of bangs. Not only is this over all flattering, but it is very practical, for it stays neatly "put," with minimum care.

Something new for the bridal gown—white Nylon velvet, said to be very charming to the eye, and highly satisfactory in that it drapes beautifully and yields pleasingly to fabric manipulation.

Very new for spring are navy coats or capes that have small shapely collars of white carucul, broadtail or similar fabric like fur. Other models in navy have simply a cluster of white ermine tails at the throat. White hat and accessories worn with these coats and capes key to the white of the fur.

To wear with your spring and summer print dresses, look up bead or flower necklaces, bracelets and clips that pick up one or more colors of the print.

THE RECORD .... Facts That Concern You — No. 27 of a Series

ONE SOUR NOTE . . .
but it's a great orchestra nevertheless
Even a great orchestra will make a musical mistake once in a while. And once in a while . . . out of the thousands of decent, law-abiding beer retailers in Virginia . . . you'll come across one or two who operate disreputable establishments.
These "black sheep" retailers constitute a tiny minority. Yet they tend to drag down the good name of beer.
By arousing public indignation, such undesirable retailers endanger your right to enjoy good beer. They also endanger the benefits to the public that beer has made possible.
For example, in Virginia beer has created 16,576 new jobs with an annual payroll of $14,136,965 and paid $1,792,945.12 in taxes last year.
The brewing industry wants "black sheep" retailers eliminated entirely. You can help us by patronizing only the reputable, legal places where beer is sold. And by reporting irregularities to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.
